

enough is

HowMany.org invites you to visit with ROB DIETZ
co-author of the breakthrough book Enough is Enough:
Building a Sustainable Economy in a World of Finite Resources

Thursday, March 28th
7:00 – 8:30 pm

Tamalpais Room, David Brower Center
2150 Allston Way, Berkeley

Overwhelmed by news of climate change, unemployment, species extinction, poverty? Longing for a better way? Rob will present fresh ideas about how to change the economy so it works for people and the planet.

- Limiting materials & energy flow to sustainable levels ■
- Stabilizing population by compassionate, non-coercive means ■
- Achieving a fair distribution of wealth and income ■
- Reforming monetary and financial systems for stability ■
- Changing the way we measure progress ■
- Securing meaningful jobs and full employment ■
- Reconfiguring the way businesses create value ■

What Noam Chomsky says about the book:

“Humans seem to be intent on confirming the argument of biologist Ernst Mayr that higher intelligence may be a lethal mutation. But the grim prognosis is not inevitable. This lucid, informed, and highly constructive book not only outlines where we are heading, but also shows that with the will to act, solutions can be found to build a steady-state economy geared to meeting human needs.”

Rob will be selling & signing books following his talk and a Q&A.

Read more about the book at www.steadystate.org/enough-is-enough

This event is free to the public. Sponsored by Institute for Population Studies.
For more info, visit HowMany.org or call (510) 848-9106

Co-sponsors (partial list): Earth Island Institute; Generation Green; Global Footprint Network;
International Forum on Globalization; Millennium Alliance for Humanity & the Biosphere;
Sierra Club Bay Chapter Population Committee; Transition Albany